Dear Madam, I wish to confirm that my original written objection to the development scheme still stands despite the fact that some aspects of the proposal have been changed.

I do think that a high rise flat building in the middle of a traditional detached housing scheme is ill advised.

Residents surrounding the proposed flat have a very legitimate reason for objecting on the grounds that the privacy of their gardens would be no more as they would be overlooked .

I concur with the writer of another objection that considerable traffic congestion would occur when parents of the nearby school deposit their children both in the morning and afternoon. Residents and visitors to the proposed flat would inevitably park in Baldwin Avenue when the residents' parking was full.

The often stated reason that the church should not be demolished because of some murals in the crypt is very weak in my opinion. If they are of such artistic value then I'm sure in this modern technical age they could be removed to some place where people could see them more easily. Why not in the new Towner Gallery?

It would appear to me that the majority of residents in the area object most strongly and it is outside agencies like the developers and English Heritage etc who approve. Is it not high time that residents' voices are heard.
